

FAMILY TIES

Vol. 1, Issue 13

June 30, 1992

Tis the summer of '92! So far, down our way it's been fairly mild -- weather-wise. For our dear country which is about to celebrate another birthday, I think the climate will be anything but mild in this election year. Enjoy all the family get togethers and I hope the summer of '92 will be the best ever for all. God bless our family and our country with peace and joy.

Another one of our loved family, Frank Edward Doran, was called home to our Father last April. His wife, Louise Doran, and daughter, Susan Lindsey, sent us the following tribute to their husband and father, and our grandfather, uncle, brother, friend.

FRANK EDWARD DORAN
July 20, 1912 - April 25, 1992

Frank Edward Doran was born July 20, 1912, to U.G. and Annie Doran at his grandparents home at 1701 S. Ervay Street in Dallas, Texas. He died April 25, 1992, at the age of 79. Frank was named for his maternal and paternal grandfathers - Frank Edward and was the middle child of U.G. and Annie. He was preceded in death by his brother, Stanley, and sister, Helen Doran Lundquist. His two younger sisters, Margaret Griffin and Katherine Wise, survive. Frank attended Dallas schools--Fannin, Bryan High and Woodrow Wilson. He went to work in the '30s as a runner for the Dallas National Bank. He was inducted into the army on May 4, 1942, and served three and one-half years. When he returned from the service, he went into the real estate business with his cousin, Allen Graham for a while, but banking was in his blood so he went back to the First National Bank and worked as a Vice President in the loan department until he retired in 1977.

Frank was married to Louise Elmore on September 17, 1938. They were married for 53 years, 7 months, 8 days. Frank and Louise had two daughters, Susan Louise (7-24-44), and Sally Ann (6-26-47). Susan married Roger Lindsey June 22, 1968, and they have two daughters, Shannon Michelle (8-19-74) and Erin Louise (1-30-78). Sally married Tom Marr and they had one daughter, Kimberly Anne Marr (10-24-70). Sally was killed in a hit-and-run accident on February 27, 1972. Frank and Louise raised Kimberly, who is single and lives and works in Mineola, New York.

Frank had many talents and hobbies. He played the organ until the wee hours of the morning while he could, he loved gardening and photography (made many home movies), and built all of his daughters and granddaughters fantastic doll houses with electric lights and all the fancies. He loved his family and was a devoted son, brother, husband, father, and grandfather. Thank you God for his wonderful life on this earth. We will surely miss him.

Susan also sent us an update on her talented daughters, Shannon and Erin -- Shannon recently graduated from her senior year at Ursuline Academy. She graduated with honors and received the French Certificate of Honor, the Theology Certificate of Honor, the Presidential Academic Fitness Award, the Freshman Class Appreciation Award, the Student Council Certificate of Honor (for her work as senior class president), and the Daughters of the American Revolution Citizenship Award. At graduation, Shannon was also awarded the Sister Emmanuel Award, given by the Ursuline Alumnae Association, for her four years of service to the school. Shannon continues working, for her fourth summer, as a dental hygienist assistant and X-ray technician for Dr. J. Thomas Hedrick, DDS. In the fall, Shannon will attend Southern Methodist University in Dallas, Texas, as a University Scholar, a Herkimer Scholar, and an honors communications program scholarship recipient.

Erin has just graduated from her middle school of eleven years, Good Shepherd Episcopal. She graduated with high honors as a member of the Student Council, National Junior Honor Society, Orff Ensemble, and received the Presidential Academic Fitness Award. This summer she is volunteering her time at two local hospitals, Presbyterian and Scottish Rite. Next year she will be starting at Ursuline Academy in the honors English and Science departments and, hopefully, on the volleyball team.

(NOTE: Please add Kim Marr to the family tree sent with the March 1992 issue (daughter of Sally Doran Marr and granddaughter of Frank and Louise Doran). I inadvertently left her off of our tree!

Please let this editor know if there are any others who should be added to our tree. As some leaves drop -- and new buds blossom, I will leave it to each of you to update your copy of the tree; however, I don't want to have anyone missing who should be on it now.)

CURRENT ADDRESSES NEEDED:

The copies of our last issue of FT sent to JOHN MONAHAN and NANCY and MIKE KASHIN were returned, marked "Attempted, Not Known" and "Moved, Not Forwardable," respectively. The editors would certainly appreciate it if anyone who has their current addresses would send them to us. We need to keep in touch with everyone!

Rob and Margaret King

joyfully announce the birth of their daughter

Mary Carolyn

born Friday, March 13, 1992

8 lbs, 14 oz 21 inches

Yes, she is finally here! We decided to name her after her two grandmothers. Mary is Margaret's mother, and you already know Mom. It is too bad Gram (Clara Lundquist Marschall) didn't have a chance to see her first great-grandchild. I'm glad Aunt Helen was able to see hers. I'm sure it was a thrill for her. Both mother and daughter are doing great. It didn't take Margaret long to get up and around.

RE: CC PARKER, ET AL

Although Cecelia Parker breaks, trains and rides wild race horses, she will not enter a commercial airplane, so in late April, she and daughter, Liz, drove to Annapolis to participate in the "Trident Scholar" Conference and Dinner meeting held on April 25 for the 1991-92 Trident Scholars, son, James (Jimmy) being one of the thirteen so honored. The Trident Scholar program, similar to the "Scholar of the House" program at Yale, is a program to provide a limited number of capable students an opportunity to engage in independent study and research. The upper 10% of students are eligible but only 13 were chosen. Jimmy's project was "Determination of Turbulent Flow Velocities by Nonlinear Accoustic Scattering."

GRADUATION -- AT LAST!

Jimmy Parker graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis this last May 27. He was a Trident Scholar and was an honoree at a banquet on April 24. CC and all Jimmy's brothers and sisters were able to attend his graduation at the Academy. Rain canceled a lot of the traditional ceremonies for the commencement week. The Color Parade and Blue Angels were canceled as were various receptions. CC, kids in tow, were able to see his school though and thoroughly enjoyed it. Jimmy took them to Washington D.C. on a little day trip, too.

President Bush handed out the diplomas to the top 100 graduates and shook their hands. Jimmy graduated 41st in his class so the President handed him his diploma. CC asked Jimmy if the President said anything to him (besides your usual courtesies) and Jimmy said yes. As President Bush handed Jimmy his diploma he said, "That's quite a fan club you have!" It was CC, et al. cheering in the audience. It is Navy tradition when your son or daughter walks across the stage to receive his or her diploma the parents are to stand up and, of course, clap and cheer -- soooo, CC was certainly going to live up to tradition! Jimmy is in California for a little R&R before reporting to his assignment in about a month.

CC Parker

CC is still working on her jockey license and it looks closer and closer to becoming a reality! She'll be riding at Trinity when it all comes together.

GOD'S SPECIAL SMILE TO GRAMPAS

I lost my faith in God some time ago. There were just too many bad things in the world...too much violence, too much hate, too much wrong. How can anything of pure good and innocence survive in this terrible world which we created for ourselves. Then I became a Grampa, and the world I knew collapsed.

It collapsed, and was rebuilt on my grandkids' smiles and joys and unaffected innocence.

Four years ago, a new smile was put on the face of the earth with the name of Sean. He was my first grandchild. Two years later another smile appeared, Briana, and a year and a half ago, a smile by the name of Joshua graced our lives. These three little "life forms" almost immediately changed my whole definition of the word "joy."

These precious young children have given me virgin insight into what life is all about...laughing and playing and having fun. Bright eyes always keenly searching for things beyond OUR everyday cares, so humdrum in the world of their day to day existence...beyond their "today." How could we have wanted anything more?

After four years of "Grampa training," I am now a bona fide Grampa by definition of the grandkids. That training included "Candy Giving 101," "Getting Grampa to Ask Mommy if They Can Stay Over the Weekend" (very advanced course), "Shuffling the Changing of the Diapers over to Gramma" (basic deception course) and the very difficult "Never Saying No" course.

These kids have called me "Grampa," a title and honor above anything yet bestowed upon me. How blessed I am...to have the opportunity to believe in God once more...thru laughter and hugs and kisses.
